OWNED FARMS ON INCREASE IN AMERICA

Statistics Show That Tenantry in Agricultural States Remains About Same

Chicago, Oct. 28.—The increase in farm tenantry which has become an issue in Kansas does not appear uniform throughout the central west, according to reports received here from a number of agricultural authorities. While the majority of the several states heard from report an advance, Wisconsin notes no change, owing to the opening of new farms, and Oklahoma declares a decrease.

Slow Decrease
Farm tenantry in Oklahoma has shown a decrease of 7 per cent during the 10 years since 1910, according to figures from each county compiled by H. H. Shutz, federal statistician for the state. In 1910, farm owners made up 45 per cent of the tillers of the soil, and renters 55 per cent, while now owners represent 52 per cent and renters 48 per cent. Nearly every section of the state showed a decrease in the number of renters, according to Mr. Shutz, who based his report on returns from all farms in the state, numbering approximately 193,000. Mr. Shutz noted a growing tendency on the part of renters to buy a small tract, from 10 to 20 acres, and rent adjoining land. He said high crop prices have enabled many renters to swing into the owner column.

No Change Noted
The percentage of rented farms has remained about the same and, in a few cases, has increased somewhat in the southern half of Wisconsin, so the economic condition there is not very different from the condition in the corn belt states. Joseph A. Becker, agricultural statistician at Madison, Wis., said, "However, the large number of new farms being opened up in the northern part of the state, practically all of which are operated by owners, has more than kept up the percentage of owned farms. Summing up, there has been some tendency toward an increase in farm tenantry, but the opening up of new farms operated by owners in the northern part of the state has more than offset this in Wisconsin."

Farm tenantry increased four per cent in Illinois in the 10 year period from 1909 to 1919, according to figures compiled by the state department of agriculture at Springfield. Tenantry in 1919 was estimated at 45.5 per cent.

Steadily Increasing
Farm tenantry in Ohio will show only a "slight increase" over 1910, in the opinion of A. Q. Follen, head of the rural economic department, at Ohio State university. It will not be more than 5 per cent, he estimates.

Farm tenantry in Minnesota is steadily increasing because of the advanced prices of farm land and a hesitancy on the part of many retiring farmers to relinquish title to their lands, according to M. J. Holmberg, state commissioner of agriculture. A material increase in tenantry is reported in the southern counties, where the cost of land is relatively high. In the northern section the increase is not so marked. Mr. Holmberg said, because the land is more abundant, and a comparatively low price and the influx of immigrants is large.

In Nebraska an increase of about four per cent in tenant owned farms from 1910 to 1919 is shown in figures supplied by Leo Stuh, secretary of the state department of agriculture.

With the Movies

"THE TERROR" MIX'S LATEST IS DUE HERE

"The Terror" is the title of the latest Tom Mix thriller, which William Fox is to present at the Eltinge theatre beginning tomorrow. This will prove one of the most stirring pictures with the rugged West as its background in which Tom Mix has yet appeared. If advance reports count for anything.

Briefly, the story concerns the efforts of "No Limit" Carson, a United States Deputy Marshal to run down leakages of gold from the Sonora Gold and Copper Mining company. Following an investigation Carson suspects Sheriff Canby and Con Norton, owner of the Odeon dance hall, who are using as their tools Fay La Cross, a love hall girl and Phil Harland, her lover, who is confidential secretary to the president of the mining company. It is only after a series of thrilling escapades that Carson brings the culprits to justice and wins the love of the sister of Harland, one of the suspects, who is found to be innocent.

ORPHEUM

Mr. Pallette before this portrayed "Red" Jocelyn in "Alias Jimmy Valentine." Bert Lytell's pictureization of Paul Armstrong's play, and still prettily was "May Allison's" playing man in "Fair and Warmer." Billy the model husband in "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" he will have the role of Reggie, also a model husband and one who gets himself into some amusing scrap.

"Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" is a hilarious boudoir comedy by C. W. Bell and Mark Swan. It was first staged at Atlantic City and later went to the Republic Theatre in New York City where it had a successful run. It will film production Ruth Stonehouse will be Polly Pathway, society reporter on a "scandal" and played in the original stage production by Florence Stone. "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" will be shown tonight at the Orpheum theatre.

ELECTION 'SHARK' FIGURES TREND OF ELECTION TO O'CONNOR 'GAIN

Here is how George D. Murray, of Berthold, N. D., figures the state election:

In 1889, when the state was admitted into the union, the total vote was 35,000.

In 1916 the total vote was about 115,000.

In the 27 years the average annual increase of votes was 3,000.

Frazier, O'Connor and Langer had a combined vote on June 30 of 121,000.

Thus, on June 30, there was a stay-at-home vote of men who opposed Townleyism but would not vote for Langer because of many prosecutions, of 6,000.

Among the men voters, Miss

Johnson (Nonpartisan) evidently received about the same vote as Gov. Frazier. In other words, Miss Nielson received perhaps a smaller vote of men than Langer. Therefore, Miss Nielson's vote shows an advantage among the women of 16,500.

O'Connor's apparent advantage then is: Langer, 2,500; stay-at-home majority, 2,500; advantage among women, 6,000; advantage among men, 16,500. Total advantage, 25,000.

But inasmuch as the vote in both 1918 and 1920 shows that the anti-Townley vote of the women has a greater proportional advantage than is shown among men, O'Connor's advantage should be greater than 25,000.

MRS. H. L. READE DIES AT HOME OF DAUGHTERS

Wife of State Fire Marshal, Had Been Seriously Ill for Eight Months

Mrs. Henry L. Reade, wife of H. L. Reade, state fire marshal, died at 4:30 a. m. today after a protracted illness of more than eight months. She had practically been confined to her bed during that period and for several years had been in poor health. The deceased passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Roy Logan, 205 First street, with whom she had made her home for several months.

The funeral will be held from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. R. P. Logan, at 2 p. m. Friday and interment will be in Fairview cemetery beside her son who died several years ago. Rev. Postheltwaite of the Presbyterian church will conduct the ceremonies. The pallbearers will be G. F. Dullam, Frank Reed, H. E. Spohn and D. C. McLean.

Mrs. Reade came as a young woman to Bismarck and was active in church work of the city. Her maiden name was Mary A. Gardiner and she came to this state from Lincoln, Nebraska, in the early eighties. She was born in England.

In 1888 she married H. L. Reade and until her health failed took a prominent part in church activities. Mrs. Reade was a member of the Eastern Star. She had a wide circle of friends and many claims that endeared her to them.

She is survived by her husband, H. L. Reade, and her daughter, Mrs. Roy P. Logan.

LODGE ESCORTS FUNERAL CORTEGE

An escort of representatives of the Masonic Lodge of Bismarck joined the funeral cortege for the body of Mrs. Sidney Cohen upon leaving Webb undertaking parlors for train No. 4 this morning.

A good representation of the local lodge assembled with the family at the parlors and pall bearers selected from their groups carried the body to the train followed by the family members of the Masonic lodge and friends.

The husband of the deceased, Mr. Sidney Cohen, their sons, Robert and Meyer, the mother of the deceased, Mrs. William Kappinger, and an aunt, Miss Nancy Nathan, accompanied the body to St. Paul for burial. Members of the Masonic body remained with the family until their departure.

MOTHER FINDS 'LOST' DAUGHTER

Minneapolis, Oct. 28.—A six-month's search by a mother for her daughter came to an end today when Mrs. John Miller, of Fargo, and Miss Miller, 17 years old, met at Minneapolis police headquarters.

The girl, according to the explanation made to her mother, had been traveling about the country with Mrs. William Armstrong, of Denver, Colo. The two she said, had been working as magazine solicitors.

SKUNK FARM NEW STATE INDUSTRY

Crystal Springs, Kidder county, is to have a new industry—a skunk farm. It is to be run on a large scale. A $25,000 company has been formed to operate the farm and to buy and sell furs of all kinds. The incorporators are Perry J. Robinson, Glenn R. Williamson and James W. Fout.

DEMAND REASON FOR OPPOSING PROBE OF BANK

The campaign hangs, and no amount of demands brought anything but evasions or entire ignoring of issues.

At midnight the crowds were still discussing the meeting and the fusionists never were so certain of the sinking of Townleyism. The significant feature of the evening, however, was the part taken in the meeting by women, and the insistent demand that Townley abandon trade for argument and answer questions. The women of Golden Valley county were a little slow in getting into action but they are a militant force now and are working in every precinct and doing it successfully.

"The Terror is Coming"

RANGERS HELD READY TO DO STRIKE DUTY

Denver, Colo., Oct. 28.—Two hundred Colorado rangers are under arms at Golden awaiting orders from the governor to move into the northern Colorado coal fields where what state officials term an "illegal strike" of miners has been called effective at midnight tonight.

Governor Shoup in a statement today, served notice on miners and operators that no disorders growing out of the strike will be tolerated.

The first men to answer the strike call, according to union officials of District 13, United Mine Workers of America, were miners of the Russell mine in Weld county, who quit work this afternoon. Puffmen were posted to prevent flooding.

According to union officials, 2,000 men in Jefferson, Weld and Boulder counties will respond to the strike call, issued as a result of a vote taken Monday night. The men demand a working agreement and adjustment of wages.

State officials declare the strike illegal on the grounds that the state had assumed authority in the strike controversy under the state laws and had set a hearing for November 4. The men contend that the strike order is legal because notice had been served on the state commission on September 11, more than 30 days prior to the strike order.

MINERS OUT
Denver, Oct. 28.—Operations in all but four mines of the northern Colorado coal fields are idle as a result of a strike for higher wages and new working conditions, according to reports received here.

COAL PRIORITY
Duluth, Oct. 28.—Indefinite suspension of the priority order of coal for movement to Lake Erie ports for transportation to the Northwest, announced yesterday by the Interstate Commerce Commission, is considered by Duluth dock operators to add to the seriousness of the coal situation in the Northwest.

The order, it is claimed, virtually makes it impossible for this territory to obtain sufficient supplies before the close of navigation to last until next spring.

NEBRASKANS TO USE CORN FUEL
Omaha, Neb., Oct. 28.—Hundreds of thousands of bushels of corn may be burned as fuel by farmers in north and central Nebraska this winter. High priced coal and a bounteous supply but low price for corn is the reason.

A wagon box 30 inches high is required to hold a ton of unshelled corn and that amount makes a hotter fire and will last longer than a ton of coal.

ARNOLD MAKES TALK DESPITE MOB'S ACTION

W. J. Arnold and Albert Amundson, who have been touring Kidder county in the interests of the Anti-Townley ticket, met determined opposition at Pettibone and Rollinsburg from Nonpartisan league candidates for the legislature and league organizers. At Pettibone an attempt was made to break up the meeting. The speakers had difficulty in restoring order, but in spite of the mob spirit shown, many votes were won and Mr. Arnold stated that there was a big slump in the league support in that county.

At Rollinsburg a packed house greeted the anti-Townley speakers. An organizer from Steele had made the rounds throughout the county and induced some of the most radical leaders to come into town and try to create a disturbance.

BONUS PLAN IS ABANDONED IN MOST CITIES

Experiment Not Profitable Experiences of Commercial Bodies Prove

Chicago, Oct. 28.—Bonus giving to bring industries to a city has general proved to be an unsound practice and has been almost entirely abandoned.

J. David Larson, secretary of the chamber of commerce at Omaha, Neb., told the sixth annual convention of the National Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries here today.

Taking "Commercial Organizations and Industrial Financing" for a subject, Mr. Larson characterized the bonus practice as a bubble.

"Years ago some enthusiasts conceived the idea of buying industries by giving bonuses," he said. "This expensive experiment appeared in the form of cash, free land, tax exemptions, etc. etc. Factory owners, competing and spurred on by alleged city pride, eliminated more conservative organizations and of course the bonus hunter went where the bubble was largest."

"Because of the bribe offered, hundreds of industries were built in towns and cities which were not suited for these enterprises and they were ultimately failures, with a loss to the owners to the bonus giver."

"Even Canadian cities, where the municipalities, through taxation offered liberal bonuses, have abandoned the plan as a failure."

British Admiralty Negotiated Purchase Of Vast Coal Area

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 28.—Negotiations are pending between a syndicate representing the British admiralty and the owners of the Ground Hog coal properties, in the Ground Hog district, 150 miles north of Hazelton, B. C., for the purchase of nearly 2,000 square miles of coal lands, forming what is claimed to be the largest smokeless steam coal deposits in the world.

The syndicate opened negotiations in 1912 with the British government through the Duke of Argyll. This deal was pending until 1914 when Lord Rhinella came to Canada and after looking over the property, decided to take it providing his children were satisfied. After an examination by the engineers' plan for a railway were laid and the original charter secured. The deal was called for the part of food control for Great Britain and before he could resume negotiations, he died. The matter then lay in suspense until Lord Jellicoe visited Canada last year, when it was again opened and has been under investigation ever since.

FUR MARKET IS PROMISING

The fur market gives promise of recovering slightly, and the further into winter the more likelihood of the market growing stronger, traders here declare. The slump in prices since spring has driven large numbers of trappers to other callings and not many animals are numerous throughout the north. It is reported, Muskrats are particularly plentiful. There is no price fixed for them as yet, but some local dealers will start off with 35 cents a skin, and they claim the price will go to 1914-15 levels. Bush wolves and rabbits are numerous all over the north. Rabbits came back last year after an absence of four years and wolf packs appeared at the same time. This is a good sign for fur men, they say. Moose, too, are apparently in greater numbers than formerly.

Saddle Horse Becomes Popular

Chicago, Oct. 28.—The saddle horse is on the way toward regaining his once great popularity according to reports from all sections of the country received here during the horse show held recently in connection with the national dairy exposition.

Chicago stables where horses are kept for hire report increases of thirty to one hundred per cent in saddle horse business during the past year and want for other uses indicates a similar revival of interest in equine training. Wayne Dismore, secretary

"Human Shuttlecock" Name Applied By Judge To American Deported

London, Oct. 28.—Joseph Newsome, an American subject charged at Willesden court with returning to this country after being deported to America as an undesirable, was described by the magistrate as a "human shuttlecock."

Newsome told the magistrate that after arriving in America, he went before a board to whom he admitted that he had well-to-do relatives in England. He said they gave him a ticket and passport for Liverpool and put him aboard a ship. He told them he was an American subject and had only just been deported from England, but they told him to return to his rich relatives.

The magistrate said it was a remarkable story and remanded him for inquiries to be made at the home office.

FINE EXHIBIT PLANNED FOR POTATO SHOW

Specialists Will Attend Conference at Duluth November 10

Duluth, Minn., Oct. 28.—An interesting and varied program of related topics is being arranged for the fifth annual convention of the Minnesota Potato Growers' association, which will open here Monday, November 8, to continue through Wednesday, November 10. In conjunction with the convention the 1920 State Potato show will be held in the armory.

One session of the convention will be devoted to discussions of seed and the development, including reports of the potato seed certification work in Minnesota and the behavior of Minnesota certified stock in other states. Among other features of the convention will be the exhibition of a moving picture film showing the methods used in growing the potato crop in Aroostook county, Maine.

The United States Department of Agriculture is expected to have a potato specialist at the convention to give the delegates information on work being done by the department in developing superior strains in seed stock. Dr. George K. Link, another department of agriculture expert, is expected to discuss methods of preventing outbreaks of diseases of potatoes during transportation.

The potato show is expected to be the best ever held in the state and assurances have been given the agricultural committee of the Duluth chamber of commerce, which is arranging the details of the exhibition, that at least fifteen counties will have exhibits. The committee also is trying to arrange an industrial exhibit to take place at the same time, according to W. C. Sargent, chairman of the committee. There will be an exhibition at displays of dairy machinery, including milking machinery, and a large exhibit of forage plants, members of the committee announce.

The newly organized State Potato exchange will be given an important place on the program and an entire day will be devoted to discussions by various officers and members of the exchange of this new departure in potato marketing in Minnesota.

Exhibition features of the potato show include county exhibits of ideal potatoes, showing the potato development work in each county; individual exhibits, boys' and girls' potato club exhibits, association exhibits, certified seed potatoes; a booth representing the work of the Minnesota Potato Exchange; potato implement and machinery exhibit, an exhibit showing the use of the potato as food, and potato pest exhibit.

FIRST SHIP SAILS UNDER NATION LEAGUE

Puts Out From Vladivostok Carrying 1,200 Russians to Siberia

London, Oct. 28.—The first steamer put into service between Hamburg and the Far East by the International Red Cross and the League of Nations has left for Vladivostok carrying 1,200 Russians whose homes are in eastern Siberia. The ship will return with former war prisoners from Siberia, according to information from the League of Nations.

It has been estimated that 100,000 former prisoners of war remain to be repatriated from Russia and Siberia. Comparatively few, however, can be brought from Vladivostok because the soviet authorities have refused permission for prisoners from Siberia proper to leave Russia by way of the Far East.

Repatriation of former war prisoners by the present scheme is possible as a result of funds raised in the United States, a number of American organizations acting jointly in which is known as the American Repatriation Committee. Already $300,000 has been raised, $100,000 being expected.

The principal organizations cooperating in this committee are the American Friends' Service Committee (Quakers), American Red Cross, American Relief Committee for Austrian War Prisoners, Federal Council of the Churches of Christ of America, Joint Distribution Committee, National Catholic War Council, Young Men's Christian Association and the National Lutheran Council.

Puffballs Good To Eat Before They Begin to Puff

Wheaton, Ill., Oct. 28.—Everybody knows puffballs, but does everybody know that puffballs, before they get to be puffballs are good to eat? Dr. W. S. Moffatt of Wheaton, Ill., a student of the mushroom for the love of it, a member of learned societies, and a well known speaker before nature clubs of Chicago, has this to say of the humble puffball.

"In the vicinity of our cities are numerous tracts of land owned or rented by devotees of the game of golf. The topography of these lands is varied, embracing both rolling and level ground wherever available. The soil, at least upon the greens, is enriched by the application of fertilizers to ensure an abundant and even growth of grass. Upon these grounds edible mushrooms of several species may be found after rains, from August until frost. Among these, one species, Agaricus campestris, is pretty well known both to players and caddies, and is apt to be gathered in day by day as the plants appear.

"However, there are other fungi, not so well known, which are looked upon as intruders, and usually are kicked to pieces whenever they are seen. Among these are species known as puffballs, to the uninitiated as 'smokeballs' or 'some kind of fungus.' These begin their appearance as small white balls, usually hidden in the grass. As they grow, they assume the size, color and shape of a golf ball, and at a little distance may easily be mistaken for one. When fully grown, they may be from three to five inches in diameter, of a whitish or cream white color, and shaped like a giant pear with its slender stem imbedded in the earth. These species, many who know them are preferred to the common mushroom. They should be gathered while they are white inside and of a cheesy consistence. As they mature, they turn to a yellowish or brownish color internally and are then unwholesome. Finally, the entire plant becomes filled with a brownish or purplish powder, and is then known as the 'smoke-ball' which the small boy delights to kick, in order to see 'smoke' puff out.

"For the reason that all of the puffballs are edible and cannot be mistaken for any other fungus (with the possible exception of the 'stink-born' which at once betrays itself by its vile odor), they should become better known to those who wish to add another edible delicacy to their menu."

HAN FINE NUCLEUS

(Chicago, Ill., Oct. 28.—Coach Ray Elder of Northwestern University expects to have three letter men from last year's team as the nucleus of the 1920 basketball squad. SNEEZE SIGN OF POOR LUCK IN EAST INDIA

Superstition Costs Many Lives Annually Declares Baptist Missionary

This was the statement of Dr. Anna Degenring, of the Woman's American Baptist Foreign Mission Society, who has just returned here, on a year's furlough after 14 years as a doctor in India.

"A sneeze means a great impending calamity to the Indian mind," said Dr. Degenring. "Whatever happens on the day that one hears a sneeze is sure to turn out ill, and the Indian will enter upon no undertaking of importance on such a day. Many of our patients have refused to have operations on the day that had been arranged, for, because they happened to sneeze that morning, or even to hear someone else sneeze."

Indian belief in auspicious days is another "hobgoblin" in the path of the medical missionary there, Dr. Degenring said. Soon after an Indian child is born, the soothsayer reveals to the family its lucky star its lucky days. Indians who fall ill or are hurt in an accident persist in waiting for their auspicious days before sending for a doctor.

The Indians, the physician explained, attribute epidemics to the wrath of various goddesses of ill health, adding "there is a goddess of malaria and a goddess of smallpox—a goddess, in fact of every recurring epidemic."

Though they believe in goddesses, they are hard to convince concerning germs and they have no idea of quarantine for contagious diseases, Dr. Degenring said.

FIND ROMAN VILLAS

Paris, Oct. 28.—Archaeologists have discovered in the wood of Enge, near Berne, Switzerland two Roman villas which appear to have been constructed in the first century B. C., says a Geneva message.

Further excavations are to be made in an attempt to establish the whereabouts of the 12 towns and 400 villages mentioned by Julius Caesar which it is believed existed in the neighborhood. Traces of the former existence of an important Roman colony at this spot have already been discovered.

Over fifty years ago a young physician practiced widely in a rural district and became famous for his up-to-date success in the curing of disease. This Dr. Pierce, who afterwards established himself in Buffalo, N. Y., and placed one of his prescriptions, which he called "Golden Medical Discovery," in the drug stores of the United States so that the public could easily obtain this very remarkable tonic, corrective and blood-maker. Dr. Pierce manufactured this "Discovery" from roots and barks—a corrective remedy, the ingredients of which nature had put in the fields and forests, for keeping us healthy. Few folks or families now living have not at sometime or other used his "Golden Medical Discovery" for the stomach, liver and heart. Over twenty-four million bottles of this tonic and blood remedy have been sold in this country.

REPRESENTATIVE MEN CANDIDATES ON ANTI-TOWNLEY FUSION TICKET

A. M. Christianson

R. J. Kampfin

L. J. Krueger

John F. McGrann

Opponents of the fusion ticket opposed to Townley and Socialism have been unable to be-schism the record of a single candidate on the state ticket, in spite of many vicious attempts.

In the second installment of photographs of men who are endorsed by the independent forces in North Dakota, The Tribune presents A. M. Christianson, chief justice of the supreme court (whose name appears on the nonpolitical ballot) Rheinhardt J. Kampfin for Attorney General, John F. McGrann for Lieutenant Governor and E. J. Krueger for railroad commissioner.

Chief Justice Christianson has made no campaign in the state, he received a higher vote in the primary than his opponent who is a law partner of Bill Lemke. Judges are named on the non-political ballot and though Lemke has dragged the courts into politics, Judge Christianson has refused to appeal for votes in a partisan manner. He is making no campaign—he simply allowed his name to be proposed for re-election to the supreme bench.

According to the information received from Modena, she walked to the convent of St. Theresa to enter it as a novice. Her hair had been cut short and she was dressed simply in blue with a black silk cap on her head. Accompanied by her mother, sister and two friends she entered the convent and was received in the hall by Father Cherubino and other ecclesiastics. The former Duchess kissed her mother and sister and knelt holding white flowers in her hands.

Marie Adelaide listened smiling to an address by Father Cherubino and while the sisters sang a hymn and she and their cherubino pointed to the door. The new novice arose walked slowly to the door, turned on the threshold to nod smilingly to her mother and then entered the convent.

FORMER RULER OF LUXENBURG TAKES THE VEIL

London, Oct. 28.—The former Grand Duchess Marie Adelaide of Luxembourg who abdicated as ruler of that country last January and was succeeded by her son, the duke, has taken the veil.

She quit as head of the Luxembourg government as the result of opposition of her subjects on the ground that she had been too friendly with the Germans during the war.

MINN. VOTE TO REACH 656,000 SCHMAHL STATES

Interest Centers in Three Cornered Race Between Hodgson, Preus and Shipstead

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 28.—One week from today, the voters of Minnesota in common with those in other states will go to the polls to express their preference for national and state officials.

Augmented this year by the women voters it is estimated by Julius A. Schmah, the secretary of state that Minnesota's poll will total 656,000, as against 387,664 ballots cast for presidential candidates in 1916.

Mr. Schmah places the male-vote or the election next week at approximately 410,000, and estimates that there will be a woman voter to the extent of about 60 per cent of this number, or 246,000. This amounts for his total estimate of 656,000.

An informal canvass of virtually every county in Minnesota reveals that primary interest in the presidential and gubernatorial races. Considerable interest also attaches to the contest for associate justice of the state supreme court and attorney general.

The activity of the National Non-partisan league has resulted in unusually warm campaigns, with this issue resting mainly on the contests for governor, attorney general, supreme court and several congressional races.

Run as Independents Defeated in the June primary in its effort to obtain the Republican nominations for state offices the Non-partisan league rallied several candidates by petition, listing them as independent candidates.

Foremost of the contests of this nature is the one for governor, with Dr. Henrik Shipstead the Non-partisan choice, opposing State Auditor J. A. O. Preus, the Republican nominee, and L. C. Hodgson, the Democratic candidate, as the other principal candidates for this office.

The other two state office contests attracting first interest have Clifford L. Hilton, present attorney general, opposed as the Republican candidate for re-election by Thomas V. Sullivan, Non-partisan league choice, filed as independent, and the supreme court justice race with Homer B. Dibble, incumbent, opposing George L. Siegel Dibble and Siegel finished first and second, respectively, in the primary and as the supreme court justices, run without party designation, it placed the two of the general election ballot. Siegel has the endorsement of the Non-partisan league.

In addition to electing a governor and a complete state ticket, the voters of Minnesota will ballot for state representatives, congressmen, justices of district courts in several districts and county judges of probate as well as county commissioners and district court clerks in many counties. There is no contest for United States senator this year.

The closest fight in the state is looked for on governor and possible attorney general will be equally close. In the primary in June Shipstead opposed Preus for the Republican gubernatorial nomination and the final count showed Preus 133,556 and Shipstead 125,087. Other candidates for the Republican gubernatorial nomination—four in number—polled a total of 47,493.

GERMAN TEXTILE CONCERNS MAKE GREATER PROFITS

Berlin, Oct. 28.—Ten large German textile concerns earned larger profits for the year ended April, 1920, than in the best years before the war.

One Bremen concern increased its profits as compared with last year from 4,400 marks to 16,800 marks, including shares allotted gratis to the shareholders, the dividend paid is 62 per cent.

A cotton company increased its profits from 2,000,000 to 9,700,000 marks.

Of the other companies the minimum dividend is 16 per cent and there are several dividends exceeding 30 and one exceeding 40 per cent.

The profits are due to the big price rise of last winter. All finished goods put on the market during the winter were priced on the basis of the price of raw cotton at the time of their sale and as raw cotton rapidly advanced in price the public was charged several hundred per cent more than the actual production cost.

CONGREGATIONALISTS ELIMINATE WORD OBEY

London, Oct. 28.—Congregationalists brides here no longer need promise in the marriage service to obey their husbands.

A committee of the Congregational Union of England and Wales appointed to draw up a new form of service has decided that modern ideas favor the omission of the word "obey," and this notwithstanding the fact that no woman sat on the committee; neither

The Housewives Burden

When a woman is almost distracted from overwork, her home is in disorder, crying children, and on top of all is suffering from backache, bearing down pains, or some other form of feminine ills, then she should remember that hundreds of women in just her condition have been restored to health and regained their youthful strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and not rest until she has given it a fair trial.

Proof that it Restored the Health of These Two Women

Cairo, Ill.—"Some time ago I got so bad with female trouble that I thought I would have to be operated on. I had a bad displacement. My right side would pain me and I was so nervous I could not hold a glass of water. Many times I would have to stop my work and sit down or I would fall on the floor in a faint. I consulted several doctors and every one told me the same but I kept fighting to keep from having the operation. I had read so many times of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped my sister so I began taking it. I have never felt better than I have since then and I keep house and am able to do all my work. The Vegetable Compound is certainly one grand medicine."—Mrs. J. R. Matthews, 3311 Sycamore Street, Cairo, Ill.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—"I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my baby came when I could no longer keep up. It strengthened my back and relieved me of the ill effects which so often develop at such times. That was my first experience with the Vegetable Compound. Years afterwards I took it during the Change of Life and got along so well I scarcely ever had to lie down during the day and seldom had dizzy, fainting spells. I am now well and strong, can do all my household work with perfect ease and it is a comfort to me to be able to say to other suffering women 'take Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine and be strong.' I will be glad to have you use my name if it will be the means of helping any one."—Mrs. P. A. Fairburn, 606 Orchard Knob Ave., Chattanooga, Tenn.

When any requests received from women to omit the fateful word

"All the churches are becoming less strict in their insistence on the wording of the marriage service," said the secretary of the Women's Freedom League. "Even in Anglican churches the word 'obey' is sometimes omitted at the bride's desire and a great number of leading Unitarian ministers have lately made a practice of cutting out the vow to obey."

GOTHAM TEACHERS TO EXAMINE PUPILS

New York, Oct. 28.—School teachers will examine every pupil in New York November 9 to determine their physical fitness. The Department of Health set aside the day to stimulate interest of the teachers in their work expecting them to more quickly detect physical defects and report them promptly to the school physician.

For 23 years a Department of Health doctor or nurse has visited each public and parochial school in New York daily. The teachers report to them any child exhibiting signs of illness. Nurses examine all pupils monthly for contagious eye and skin diseases and pronounced physical shortcomings. Those having symptoms of contagious diseases are immediately sent home.

In this way contagious diseases have been held under control here. This was shown in the influenza epidemics which were checked in the schools so forcibly that attendance was proportionately as great as during the same period in other years, and the sickness and death rate was lower in the five to fifteen-year-old age than for any other period of life.

The Health Department expects to make thorough search for unhealthy pupils in the future. Most of the men rejected for war service it has been noted had defects which could easily have been prevented or corrected during childhood.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

A WILDERNESS OF LIES

When Townley selected Neil C. Macdonald to make a drive on Miss Minnie Nielson, he determined that his enmity to this woman should know no bounds. Instructions were issued to get Miss Nielson's scalp at any cost so that the fingers of the soviet plunderbund could close around the school trust fund and employ that money to finance the wild economic dreams of the bankrupt socialist.

The litigation to oust this woman from office is now a matter of court record. Miss Nielson was vindicated at every turn of the road by a supreme court sympathetic to the league, endorsed by the league and elected through the grace of Townley and Lemke.

Those sinister forces still at their work of slander and innuendo continue to lie about Miss Nielson's qualifications. They know that they dare not go to the court decision occurred in by every member of their own supreme court, but they take portions of the evidence in the case of McDonald vs. Nielson to injure her standing as an educator and to accomplish her political ruin.

Voters interested in the truth need only go to the supreme court decision where the case was appealed by Ed. S. Allen, nonpartisan league candidate for state attorney of Burleigh county, who was one of the attorneys selected by the Townley cohorts to aid in the persecution of Miss Nielson.

This is the unanimous decision of the North Dakota supreme court upon the qualifications of Miss Nielson:

"It appears from the record in this case that the defendant, Minnie J. Nielson, on November 27, 1900, received from the superintendent of public instruction a normal certificate under the provision of Section 738. The result of the examination taken by her is endorsed on the certificate. It appears therefrom that she was examined in 24 different subjects, including methods of teaching, history of education, pedagogy and psychology. It also appears that in the subjects enumerated she received very favorable marks."

"The record also discloses that on December 8, 1902, the then superintendent of public instruction issued a professional certificate to the defendant. This later certificate was concededly the highest certificate issued in this state at the time it was issued, and at all times between that date and July 1, 1911."

Every member of the court signed this decision which in addition pointed out that Miss Nielson had acted under this certificate for a period of 16 years before she was elected to the office of superintendent of public instruction, and during this time the validity of the certificate was never questioned.

The court had the following to say about Mr. Macdonald's motives at that time and it applies with equal force now to Townley and his henchmen who are relentless in their fight on Miss Nielson:

"If the plaintiff in good faith believed that the certificate held by the defendant was invalid and properly subject to revocation, why did he fail to institute proceedings for revocation while he was at the head of the educational department of the state? His failure to act then is somewhat significant and might well be held to estop him from speaking now."

The political knaves who are going about the state questioning Miss Nielson's qualifications should be silenced by the decision of the Townley elected supreme court. Arthur C. vouched for these men and wanted them on the bench and placed them there.

Even though their decision on Miss Minnie Nielson's qualifications does not conform to Townley's rule of justice, The Tribune believes the voters of the state will take the unanimous findings of the supreme court in preference to the wilderness of lies in which the league speakers seek to obscure the real truth.

TOWNLEY OPPOSED AN INCREASE

An interesting second chapter of the fixing of the price of wheat is presented in the amendment of Senator Gore to the Agricultural Appropriation Bill before the United States Congress in May, 1918. This amendment was to fix the price of wheat at $2.50 per bushel under the Lever Food Act for 1918-1919 crops. The Gore amendment passed the Senate by a two-thirds vote, for making the price of wheat $2.50 per bushel at the elevator.

The bill was then sent to the House with good prospects of its being passed, until A. C. Townley.

President of the National Nonpartisan League, on May 30, 1918, sent the following telegram to Washington:

"Do not be misinformed by politicians. The farmers of the Northwest cheerfully acquiesce in your decision fixing wheat prices on the basis of the 1917 crop."

Townley asserted that he represented 45,000 farmers.

The bill failed to pass the House. The price of wheat remained at $2.20 per bushel at the terminal, which is approximately not more than $2.15 and as low as $2.11 at the county elevators of Minnesota. The farmers of Minnesota lost hundreds of millions of dollars in 1918 and in 1919, largely because the efforts of labor and the advice of A. C. Townley to keep down the price of the farmers' wheat were successful.

These are documentary facts which cannot be disputed.

Gas has been struck in the midst of Buffalo but it may be old-fashioned political enthusiasm, so long suppressed, has burst forth.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

SOCIALISM AND THE INTELLIGENT

One of the slick things in the Socialist propaganda has been its sophistry in answering the appeals of ambitious persons.

"What will become, under socialism of the arts and sciences?" the Socialists are frequently asked. The stock answer has been: "We shall encourage them more than ever. All persons of talent will have opportunities to develop. The State will care for artists and writers, who often under the individualistic system are driven into sordid work."

Mr. H. G. Wells, who is a Socialist as well as an artist, has been in Russia watching socialism's practical test. His first announcement on coming back is that unless the outer world provides a refugee colony for men of science, art and the other learned professions the Russian intelligencia will be exterminated.

Mr. Wells says Russia can never be regenerated or governed without the class he wants to save. But all that Soviet Russia promises them is starvation or execution.

Another gold brick is tested.—New York Herald.

DO WE LEAVE OR DOES MR. TOWNLEY?

So it is to be a question of who will be permitted to remain in North Dakota—Mr. Townley and his horde of Socialist office holders, or some 55,000 independent voters and their families?

That is the issue Mr. Townley, with the assistance of Governor Frazier and William Lemke, is presenting to the voters at the coming election.

The independent voters haven't made the issue. They are willing that Mr. Townley and his Socialists shall remain in the state. All we want to do is to separate them from the public payroll and have them go to work for a living.

But Mr. Townley has made the issue, and it is paramount to any other, as he states it. He frankly and cold-bloodedly threatens that if he is defeated he will return to this state and drive out of business and out the state, the men who refuse to support him and his money digging enterprises.

All right.

Let's accept that issue.

Surely the self respecting farmers of North Dakota are not going to follow these Socialist carpet beggars into such a battle as that. It isn't really a question, therefore, of whether the independent voters will stay in North Dakota, or not. We are going to stay whether Mr. Townley is victorious or defeated, and we are going to keep right on fighting him. But the real question is whether a man who will make such threats, is going to be permitted to have anything more to say about the government of the State of North Dakota.

If the voters of this state are not a flock of rabbit hearted cowards; if they have an ounce of pride and fighting spirit in their makeup, a threat like that will merely make them fighting mad. Such impudence on the part of this convicted secessionist, this bankrupt grain gambler, this itinerant Socialist politician, ought to make every citizen of the state resolve that he will get into this fight as he never did in any previous campaign.

Any man who won't resent this slap in the face, hasn't the spirit of an American citizen. He doesn't deserve to live under the flag of freedom.

Johnny Baer was going to "raise so much Hell in North Dakota" he would make us wish we had sent him back to Congress. Now Townley, Lemke and Frazier have adopted the same platform. Well, the independent voters of the state, men and women, may do a little Hell-raising on their own account. If we know anything about the average American voter, he is a rather easy-going person who may be led at times by honeyed phrases and empty promises of political spellbinders, but he's a most difficult person to drive. He doesn't submit to browbeating a little bit, and it is our guess that 55,000 independent male voters, and 60,000 to 65,000 independent women voters are not going to let one lone political agitator blackmail them into voting for him on penalty of being put out of business and driven from the state if they refuse.—Fargo Forum.
